USA

Dear Friends,
        Jai Bheem.

"Atta Deep Bhav!" is a new monthly news article starting from May 15th 2001 and will come to you every 15th day of the month. As the name means, "Be Thy Own Light!" this is the article for Indian Buddhist students who are willing to follow the path of "Atta Deep Bhav!" in life. We are pleased and honored to start this article for the following objectives.

Objectives:

   To encourage as many Indian Buddhist students as possible, to get a good job in the United States of America and overseas.
   To give them an overview of the trends around and the coming opportunities.

To achieve these objectives, we have an earnest and sincere desire to give correct, complete and very useful information about the current career trends in any field, mainly focussing on Computer and Information Technology.

First few Lines from our Desk…

        To every single Buddhist student in India, we wish to convey through this article that though we work here, very far from India, we care for you all. We will do our best possible to provide you with good information. But one very important thing you all need to keep in mind: It is you who should take a deep and enthusiastic interest to make your own individual career dreams true. Its you who needs to strive hard to achieve success.
        Finally, with the thought that the heart of every Buddhist student will beat in sympathy for every other Buddhist student and with the hope that you will share this information with as many Buddhist students as possible.
        Depending upon the suggestions and response from the readers, we are wholeheartedly open for making changes but within the framework of making this article a powerful source of right career related information for Indian Buddhist students.

Atta Deep Bhav!

Thus Spoke Ambedkar:

You must abolish your slavery yourselves. Do not depend for its abolition upon god or a superman. Remember that it is not enough that a people are numerically in the majority. They must be always watchful, strong and self-respecting to attain and maintain success. We must shape our course ourselves and by ourselves.

Dr. B. R. Ambedkar

Britain to recruit thousands of foreign doctors:

In this issue we have some good news for our brothers and sisters in Medical profession. The news indicates a good opportunity for going abroad and also being in the same profession. Although as of now, we don't have any specific web sites to give more information about this but we believe that the local Great Britain embassy should be able to tell you all and every information about the process and procedures to be followed for this. So you may be required to strive a little harder to gather this more specific information but still its worth a try and efforts. This news article can be your base point to start with. Here the news goes…

Britain plans to recruit thousands of foreign senior doctors, including those from India, to meet the shortage of general practitioners (GPs) and fulfil election pledges by the Labor Party to provide 10,000 new doctors in the next four years.

Britain is facing a serious shortage of GPs, partly because thousands of Indian-trained doctors who were recruited in the 1970s are now beginning to retire.

The Times daily today reported that the British government would launch a global advertising campaign next month to meet the requirements.

It said that Health Secretary Alan Milburn was appealing to doctors in Asia, Australia, Canada, Europe and the United States for the purpose.

According to official sources, the government is being forced to recruit doctors from overseas, particularly from Spain, Germany and Italy, after realizing that it would be unable to meet the election promises on public services.

The government promised in its National Health Service (NHS) Plan last summer to employ 7,500 more consultants and 2,000 GPs by the end of 2004. But latest figures show that the number of new doctors who registered last year was the lowest for eight years. Just 8,703 new doctors from home and abroad registered to work in the UK last year - the lowest since 1992.
